British Shipping Reported Target

San Juan, Puerto Rico, Oct. 21 (Reuters) — Armed naval units of the anti-Castro Alpha 66 organization have left for Cuban territorial waters bent on sinking any British merchant vessel encountered in the area, a spokesman said here today.

A spokesman for a three-man committee, who insisted on remaining anonymous, said it also threatened to organize a boycott of British goods among about 300,000 Cuban exiles now scattered through the Americas if Britain "did not sever all commercial shipping to Cuba within the next two weeks."
